School board to again discuss status of Hancock administrator

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County School Board will meet in special session Wednesday night to consider rehiring the school district programs administrator.

The board in a special meeting Friday morning individually approved most employees included in a recommendation by Terrell Randolph, superintendent of education, to rehire all but two of the office employees for the year.

Those approved include Lois Carver as bookkeeper, Sue Dean as office secretary, Debbie Ladner as clerk typist, and James Pair as assistance superintendent of education.

However, Monvel Cuevas, board president, voted against hiring Ladner who is his niece.

Rhea Scalfi, district cafeteria supervisor was approved pending an investigation of her job qualifications.

The board offered no reason for the action.

Randolph previously presented the same rehiring recommendation at the board's regular meeting Monday night, and the board tabled acting on the matter until Friday.

In addition, the board abolished the district's "assistant bookkeeper" position and established position titled "bookkeeper."

The two employees not included in the superintendent's recommendation and board approvals are Harlin Hill, school programs coordinator; and Brenda Ladner, head bookkeeper, sister of Cuevas and mother of Debbie Ladner.

Brenda Ladner attended the Friday meeting along with Hill who was accompanied by Yvonne Sills, a Bay St. Louis attorney.

The board met in executive session about 20 minutes to discuss personnel.

After the meeting when asked if Brenda Ladner and Hill are still employees, Mike Smith, executive director of the National Space Technology Laboratories' observance of Black History Month for 1983.

A day-long program featuring a speaker and entertainment is planned for Tuesday, Feb. 22.

The public is invited to participate in the activities, which will be held in the auditorium of NSTL's Visitors Center.

This fourth annual Black History Month program is being sponsored by the NSTL Association for Cultural Awareness.

Astronaut Gregory, who was assigned as a pilot on future Space Shuttle flight crews in August 1979, will speak at 10 a.m. He will be introduced by Jerry Hlass, NSTL director.

A lieutenant colonel in the Air Force, Gregory graduated in 1964 from the Air Force Academy, entered pilot training and received his wings from undergraduate helicopter training in 1965.

He flew helicopters for three years, including a Vietnam tour as a rescue crew commander.

His special honors include the Air Force Distinguished Flying Cross, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Air Medal with 15 Oak Leaf Clusters and the Air Force Commendation Medal.

Lucimarian Roberts, chairperson of the Harrison County Democratic Executive Committee, will serve as mistress of ceremonies for the Feb. 22 program which begins at 9 a.m.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. William Young, pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church in Pass Christian.

The NSTL Concert Choir, with musical accompaniment by June Calkins, will then perform.

Following welcoming remarks by Hlass, the Rev. Dr. Emmett Burns of Baltimore, Md., will speak.

According to Peterson, his office received a telephone call from Koch at 10 p.m. Wednesday night.

"Koch, who is an auxiliary policeman with the Bay St. Louis Police Department, told me he had just shot and killed somebody," said Peterson, "and that he was off duty at the time."

Peterson, Ladner and Seay arrived at the scene of the shooting, a residence on Mississippi Street, Box 1322, Shoreline Park, Bay St. Louis, and found the body of the Manning woman in the bedroom.

"The victim was apparently shot through the left side of the cheek with a .357 magnum," said Peterson.

Koch also lives in Shoreline Park at Route 1, Box 80K, Bancroft Street.

"Koch was moved to an undisclosed jail at 3 a.m.," said Peterson.

"Details are still sketchy, but the victim was clutching a .25 caliber automatic pistol, and Seay, Ladner and myself are trying to determine whether the deceased actually had the gun in her hand at the time she was killed," the sheriff said.

A preliminary hearing will be held after the arraignment.

ASCS NEWS

FINAL DATE

Farmers who are considering crop insurance which is available through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), are encouraged to get their individual yields established based on actual production.

The Individual Yield Coverage Plan (IYCP) was introduced in 1982, and provides individual farmers an opportunity to substitute their yield records for the established FCIC yield.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has been assigned responsibility for establishing yields under the Individual Yield Coverage Plan. Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Director Franklin A. Gennin said that farmers who are interested in proving their individual yields for 1983, must do so by March 16, 1983.

He said that crop insurance is being offered in Pearl River and Hancock Counties for the following commodities: Wheat, Corn, Grain, Sorghum, Rice and Soybeans. He said that individual yield could be proven for any or all of these commodities.

The ASCS director said that production records must be submitted for the 3 years prior to 1983, on which the crop was produced on the farm. He advised that producers who are interested in establishing individual yield coverage, contact their local ASCS office for detailed information as to the records which are needed as production evidence, crop years for which records are needed, etc.

Gennin stated that IYCP records will be turned over to authorized sales agents. He emphasized the ASCS offices do not sell or service FCIC Insurance.

Now that NBC has broken up one of the best lineups on commercial television in recent years, it will be necessary to flip the dial a few times in order to catch quality programming.

That exemplary lineup I'm referring to was the Thursday night show-to-show excellence of "Fame," "Cheers," "Taxi" and "Hill Street Blues."

In order to boost ratings, NBC moved "Taxi" to Saturday night, the graveyard of situation comedies. Sitcoms stand puny and weak when pitted against ABC's heavyweight competition, "Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island."

Now NBC says that "Taxi" will soon be mothballed for awhile, the condition prior to cancellation. Most of this network juggling was due mainly to the show's inconsistency. The loud-mouthed, single-minded mentality of Latka's wife, Simka, (played by the capable Carol Kane) spelled doom for this occasionally amusing comedy.

Following "Fame," NBC moved in "Gimme a Break!" I yelled, "Gimme a Break!" when I saw what they had done. By infusing an adolescent, schmaltz show like this one into their previously sophisticated lineup, NBC has broken the semblance of continuity. The step between "Gimme a Break" and "Cheers" is a quantum leap in terms of comedy and intelligence.

But once that leap is made the rest is smooth sailing. "Cheers," which I've recommended previously in this column, is a breezy, quick-witted comedy filled with the most likeable characters since "M*A*S*H" debuted some ten years ago. The genuinely funny cast headed by Shelly Long, Ted Danson, Rhea Perlman and George Wendt consistently engage in freshly harped humor. Not only is the comedy good but the stories that support the jokes are well written and occasionally thought-provoking.

Connecting with "Cheers" is the great police/human relations drama, "Hill Street Blues." It appears that "Hill Street" is really beginning to hit its stride in this, its third season. With fine acting, equally fine writing and noteworthy production values, "Hill Street" continues to excel. In fact, the three-segment series that concludes tonight was one of the best television

ETV Brief

BLACK HISTORY

In celebration of Black History Month during February, Mississippi ETV will air two special programs on Wednesday, Feb. 16, plus ETV's own weekly magazine series "Faces" for the state's minority community.

At 8 "Frederick Douglass, Slave and Statesman" pays tribute to the spirit and philosophy of the great black leader. William Marshall portrays Douglass. Based closely on Douglass' writings and speeches, the program chronicles the early life of this man, through his passionate fight for "emancipation as the cure for slavery and its evils."

The works of black poets are spotlighted in "Voices of Our People/In Celebration of Black Poetry" at 9. The poetry of Maya Angelou, Oscar Brown Jr., Gwendolyn Brooks, Sterling A. Brown, Henry Dumas, Paul Laurence Dunbar and Langston Hughes will be performed by Brock Peters, Denise Nicholas Hill, Charles Floyd Johnson, Janet MacLachlal, Robert Hooks and Tracee Lyles.

Mississippi ETV's "Faces" series presents news features, interviews and entertainment for and about the state's black community. The half-hour programs can be seen at 7:30 p.m., Wednesdays, with rebroadcasts at 6:30 p.m., Sundays.

In order to boost ratings, NBC moved "Taxi" to Saturday night, the graveyard of situation comedies. Sitcoms stand puny and weak when pitted against ABC's heavyweight competition, "Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island."

Now NBC says that "Taxi" will soon be mothballed for awhile, the condition prior to cancellation. Most of this network juggling was due mainly to the show's inconsistency. The loud-mouthed, single-minded mentality of Latka's wife, Simka, (played by the capable Carol Kane) spelled doom for this occasionally amusing comedy.

Following "Fame," NBC moved in "Gimme a Break!" I yelled, "Gimme a Break!" when I saw what they had done. By infusing an adolescent, schmaltz show like this one into their previously sophisticated lineup, NBC has broken the semblance of continuity. The step between "Gimme a Break" and "Cheers" is a quantum leap in terms of comedy and intelligence.

But once that leap is made the rest is smooth sailing.

"Cheers," which I've recommended previously in this column, is a breezy, quick-witted comedy filled with the most likeable characters since "M*A*S*H" debuted some ten years ago. The genuinely funny cast headed by Shelly Long, Ted Danson, Rhea Perlman and George Wendt consistently engage in freshly harped humor. Not only is the comedy good but the stories that support the jokes are well written and occasionally thought-provoking.

Connecting with "Cheers" is the great police/human relations drama, "Hill Street Blues." It appears that "Hill Street" is really beginning to hit its stride in this, its third season. With fine acting, equally fine writing and noteworthy production values, "Hill Street" continues to excel. In fact, the three-segment series that concludes tonight was one of the best television shows of the year.

That's all for now. See you next week.

EDITORIAL*Tornado drill planned

A statewide tornado drill Thursday will highlight this year's Tornado Awareness Week in Mississippi. Friday is the alternate date in case of bad weather on Thursday.

A practice tornado watch will be issued Thursday morning. As in a real event, the watch will be an alert that warnings are possible in the next few hours. A practice tornado warning will be issued later that morning.

The purpose of the drill is to give residents of Mississippi an opportunity to see if they can hear a warning in time and know what to do. Everyone in Mississippi should take this drill seriously. Mississippi leads all other states in tornado-related deaths. Since 1916 tornadoes have killed 1,130 people in Mississippi.

When the practice tornado warning is issued, the National Weather Service is asking that people note the time they first hear the warning and from what source.

They are also encouraging people to take same action they would in the event of a real tornado warning.

The few minutes it will take to participate will give Mississippians a good idea whether they are prepared to deal with an actual tornado threat.

We would like to remind all concerned that at the time of the drill we will already be into the season of peak tornado activity in Mississippi. This four month peak runs February through May. But remember, tornadoes can occur at any time during the year.

NEW SAFETY TIP

In the late 1970's the National Weather Service stopped recommending that people open doors and windows to reduce pressure in a building when threatened by a tornado.

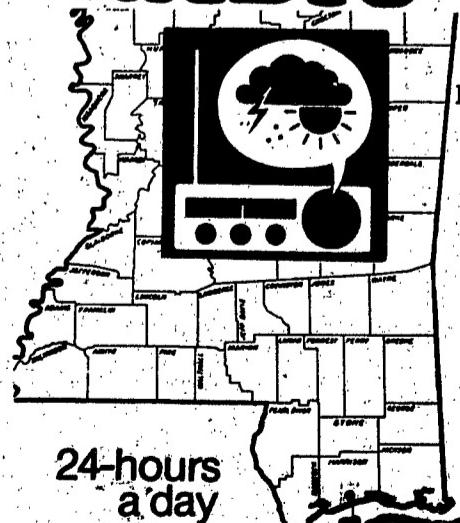

Extensive research by the National Weather Service and by Texas Tech University has determined that open doors and windows will not significantly reduce the amount of destruction a building receives when struck by a tornado. In fact, there is some evidence that an open door or window may increase the destructive effect of the wind.

It has been found that the outward force created by the relative high pressure inside a building when a tornado moves overhead will not cause a building to explode. The explosive destruction of a building in a tornado is due almost totally to the effects of tornado strength winds. These winds may reach speeds up to 300 mph.

Another reason to stop this practice is that during a short fused tornado event one of the worst places to get caught is by a window (an exterior wall). We suggest that people use what time there is to find the best available shelter in the building they are in and leave doors and windows alone.

It has been years since the National Weather Service changed this safety rule, but the idea that low pressure in a tornado can explode a building still persists. Please help us at the National Weather Service keep the people of Mississippi informed of the proper severe weather safety rules.

Heart Answers

WHAT IS HYPERTENSION?

Hypertension is the medical term for high blood pressure. It occurs when the pressure the heart needs to pump blood is higher than normal. People who have untreated hypertension are more likely to suffer from heart disease and stroke. High blood pressure can be detected with regular blood pressure checks. The risk of heart disease and stroke can be reduced with treatment to control high blood pressure. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

QQ Quotables by Cuevas 99

The political races are already heating up in neighboring Pearl River County.

In checking last Sunday's Picayune Item, we noted a total of 38 candidates had already filed for such county offices as sheriff, board of supervisor's, constable, justice court judge and coroner.

It should not be too long before candidates start filing in Hancock County, as the election is not far off.

No wonder the weather has been a topic of conversation this month.

New Orleans, not so far from here has already broken the old record for February.

In all probability, we will even receive more rainfall before February is over.

Guess we will have to keep our raincoats, umbrellas, and boots handy.

Mardi Gras is winding down very fast now with only a few parades left on the schedule.

This afternoon the Pass Christian Parade is scheduled for 2 p.m.

We know a lot of folks from here see the Pass Christian Parade, just like many of their residents view the parades in the Bay-Waveland area.

In Bay St. Louis the Krewe of Kids is scheduled to parade at 2 p.m. on Monday in the Cedar Point area.

On Mardi Gras Day, the Krewe of Real People is scheduled to leave St. Rose School at noon and travel around Bay St. Louis.

The at 2 p.m., the Krewe of Triton is scheduled to leave Our Shopping Center in Waveland, and travel US-90 to The Bay Mall Shopping Center.

We hope as many of you as possible will try and view the parades.

Happy Mardi Gras!

Congratulations are in order for Robert G. (Bob) Hubbard III, on being named King Triton IX last night.

Now, we have known Bob since he was born, and will not say exactly how long ago that is because we would be giving away his age.

We can think of no one more deserving than Bob to serve as king of Triton. He is a very dedicated person in all of his endeavors.

Congratulations are also in order for Queen Amphilite I, Barbara Rappold, she was named last night as the first queen of Triton.

Hail to the king and queen of Triton!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

Pearlington community united in opposition to proposed oil drilling mud waste transfer station

February 8, 1983
To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

To begin, how is it that the residents of Hancock County are presently allowing Mississippi Pumping Services, Inc. to dump Louisiana's and Alabama's drilling mud — also referred to as sewage — in Mississippi?

Is this to the grand benefit of Mississippi or only to certain "Bay businessmen"?

Second in consideration are the ever-changing facts.

We were first presented with a dump site in the NISTL Buffer Zone that has now become a million dollar transfer station; the 15 men to be employed have now become 35 county-wide.

At the Bureau of Marine Resources hearing it was stated that only one or two barges a month would trudge up the Pearl, now it's three or four a month.

— There will be no spills, but yes, there have been spills at the present transfer station.

— Port Bienville is too low to protect company barges from foul weather. Let us suggest that company officials visit the Napoleon site when the river crests in a few weeks. They will find the designated area totally under water.

— Port Bienville is believed to be too costly, yet over a million dollars is to be spent on construction of the transfer station.

With these conflicting statements one can easily understand our concern.

It has been stated that if the transfer station for which there is already a comparable facility, is not permitted, illegal dumping will resume.

The entire county should be concerned about the source of this.

And the facility, as described, has nothing to do with the actual dumping.

of waste... or does it?

Pardon our suspicions, but it is felt that there is more to be aware of than is being publicized at this point.

Once the permit is issued, Pearlington loses the battle. Rumors have already begun about the possibility of Louisiana contracts to haul and dump more hazardous chemicals.

And hints have been made of threats to individuals in opposition.

The 633 persons whose signatures appeared on a petition and the hundreds of others opposing who were not approached due to lack of time before the BMR hearing deadline, do not consider themselves "a few individuals."

One can be certain that these people are a united group of over a thousand who do not wish to be manhandled nor encroached upon by big business as have hundreds of other unsuspecting towns nationwide.

It is regretted by all in opposition that the entire matter was not made known early enough for their opinions to be heard by those responsible for making the final decision.

Those of us who have already made public our feelings are not just three irrationally irritated residents.

We are mere representatives of approximately 92 to 98 percent of the residents who will be directly affected by a land use change.

In addition to these people are those who spoke in opposition at the BMR hearing, including environmentalists, ecologists, a representative from nearby major Louisiana and Mississippi hunting clubs.

Though we may have lost our case to industry, I wish to thank the Sea Coast Echo for allowing us to air our grievances through this media.

Sincerely,
Denise Wilkinson
Pearlington

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

STATE OF THE UNION
President Reagan has reported to Congress that the state of our country is strong but the economy is troubled. He also made several specific, positive recommendations to improve the situation.

As I sat in the House chamber listening to the President speak to a joint session of Congress, I couldn't help but think how realistic and frank his message was. He was not looking at the world through rose-colored glasses; he sized up the problems we face and how to solve them.

The President pointed out that the bipartisan Commission on Social Security has reached agreement on ways to keep the system solvent. While I do not necessarily support all of the recommendations, I do think we owe it to the American people not to reject them out of hand.

The President spoke of a time of transition and renewal, and said the future, in the words of Franklin Roosevelt, lies with those wise political leaders who realize that the great public is interested more in government than in politics."

With that thought in mind, a four-part budget plan was outlined, a plan which will serve as the basis for details soon to be sent to the Congress. The appropriate committees of Congress will then begin to do their work, and hopefully, the emerging legislation will be helpful.

One of the measures the President will submit will be the Employment Act of 1963, which will be designed to get at the special problems of the long-term unemployed as well as young people trying to enter the job market.

Another positive proposal will be creation of education savings accounts that will give middle and lower income families an incentive to save for their children's college education through a tax exemption.

In other education proposals, I expect to see a major effort to upgrade math and science instruction, two subjects so crucial to the new technology.

A new priority will be established for trade with other countries, including improvements to America's ports and harbors which serve as distribution points for U.S. products. I am monitoring this proposal very closely because it could be beneficial to our ports in Gulfport and Pascagoula.

In other areas, the Reagan administration will propose legislation to provide catastrophic illness insurance coverage for older Americans, accelerate the drive against crime, strengthen national defense and enhance efforts to restore some programs to state and local governments.

It will take a certain amount of cooperation in Congress to reach the goals set by the President and I hope that cooperation is forthcoming as we settle into the task of solving problems.

Also, commission engineer Woody Steffel said that work would have to be done on the Port Bienville railroad track system.

"The tracks have spread out at the Gonzales Road crossing," said Steffel, "and there's a dip in the track grade." Steffel explained an experienced railroad work crew was needed and recommended Claude Green Railroad Maintenance Crew be hired for a fee of $600 per day, one day a month to work

News Brief

Students may soon be assisting with energy conservation projects in their own school buildings across the state.

The Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation and Dr. Richard Forbes of Mississippi State University have developed "The Energy Project Book" to teach vocational-technical students the skills needed to construct and install energy-saving measures.

Some of the projects students will learn are how to build solar water heaters, develop solar site plans, caulk and weatherstrip, construct movable insulation and install electrical timing devices.

Workshops for vo-tech instructors will be conducted Feb. 24 in Hattiesburg and March 1 in Biloxi.

For more information contact Skip Owen at 1-800-222-4311 or Dr. Richard Forbes at 325-3260.

A series of workshops will be conducted throughout the state to inform vocational-technical teachers of the contents of the workbook and how to best implement the energy conservation projects in their schools.

Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation Program Manager, W. L. (Skip) Owen feels that this is an excellent way for students to learn a skill and also help their school reduce energy costs.

State Trooper Reward Fund established

Commissioner Sidney Berry and Col. Donald Butler have announced that a fund has been established to pay a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who shot and killed State Trooper Danny Nash.

Nash was killed while patrolling west of Meadville about 10 p.m., Friday, Feb. 4. Col. Butler, chief of the Highway Patrol, said many inquiries have been made by private individuals and businesses about contributing to a reward fund.

He said the fund was established in response to those requests.

"No stone should be left un-tured in the search for Danny Nash's assailant," Butler said. "Any contributions that can help develop information that would solve the killing of Mississippi state trooper would be appreciated."

Berry said the concern expressed by Mississippians over Nash's death has been an "inspiration and source of comfort at a time of great sorrow for all members of the Department of Public Safety."

"All of us share a deep sense of personal loss because of Trooper Danny Nash's death," Berry said.

"That sense of loss carries with it a determination that the facts surrounding the murder will be fully developed and that the murderer will be brought to justice."

Berry and Col. Butler said any contribution, large or small, would be appreciated.

An account has been established at the First National Bank in Jackson to handle the reward fund. Checks should be made payable to "State Trooper Reward Fund" and sent to Col. Donald Butler, Chief of Patrol, Post Office Box 958, Jackson, MS 39205.

Col. Butler said the account would be handled by an officer of the bank and not by members of the Department of Public Safety.

"I believe the greater the reward the more inducement for those persons with information about this murder to come forward," Butler said.

ETV Brief

DANCE IN AMERICA—Choreographer George Balanchine and the New York City Ballet celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Igor Stravinsky on "Balanchine Celebrates Stravinsky" at 9 p.m., Monday, Feb. 14, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The "Dance in America/Great Performances" presentation features three works choreographed by Balanchine to the music of Stravinsky: "Agon," "Variations" and "Persephone."

Principal dancers in the program are Heather Watts, Mel A. Tomlinson, Suzanne Farrell and Karin von Arndt.

You see Jesus put it this way, "Whoever would be great among you must be your minister (servant)..."

Are you a follower of Christ in the truest sense of the word? In what ways do you serve others? Do you pray often for others? Do you tell others about the many blessings that God has done for you? Do you see to it that your children are brought up in the Lord? Do you often donate your time, money, and talents to helping others in their need?

You see Jesus put it this way, "Whoever would be great among you must be your servant..."

The old sampler stated it even more simply, "No Cross, No Crown."

Be a true follower of Christ. Find your ministry. Exercise the gifts and talents that God has given you. And give all the glory to the One to whom it all belongs, God, and the Abundant Life will be yours.

We see service in His healing ministry. We see service in even the most mundane aspects of life when the Son of God washed the dirty feet of His disciples! We see service in His prayer life as He prayed for others and for more strength to serve them. We see service in His willingness to suffer mental and physical anguish during the process of ministering to others.

We see service in His nail-pierced wrists and ankles and sword-pierced side! We even see service as He sits at the right hand of His Father as He intercedes for us in our prayers.

Come to think of it, Jesus said more than a mouthful; he said a life full because in this one sentence he has not only summarized up His entire life but that of His disciples too!

INSPECTING ANTIQUES—Sister Adel Mara Aldermara, left, of Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis and member of Hancock County Friends of The Library and Mrs. Nunez (Joe) Pilet, Library Friends coordinator, inspect an antique butter mold on display at the group's February meeting at City-County Library in Bay St. Louis. The article is from the primitives collection of Glenn Green of Bay St. Louis. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

—John 10:10

Those who are followers of Christ must not only follow Him to victory and Heaven but to service and death if need be.

In my Father's house there is an antique sampler with the words powerfully embossed, "No Cross, No Crown."

Jesus said, "Whoever would be great among you must be your minister (servant)..."

Are you a follower of Christ in the truest sense of the word? In what ways do you serve others? Do you pray often for others? Do you tell others about the many blessings that God has done for you? Do you see to it that your children are brought up in the Lord? Do you often donate your time, money, and talents to helping others in their need?

You see Jesus put it this way, "Whoever would be great among you must be your servant..."

The old sampler stated it even more simply, "No Cross, No Crown."

Be a true follower of Christ. Find your ministry. Exercise the gifts and talents that God has given you. And give all the glory to the One to whom it all belongs, God, and the Abundant Life will be yours.

St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church Parish News

By B.C. KELLER

Our scriptures proclaim as blessed those who trust in the Lord. Trust in itself is a blessing. Happy are those who know they need the Lord.

Mrs. Margaret Alexander thanks parishioners and friends for their many prayers. Leo Gabriel Lawrence Green, son of Leo Green and Cyrellia Barbabino, was baptized at St. Rose last Sunday.

At its last meeting the liturgy committee adopted the theme "Follow Me" for our Lenten celebration. A special Family Mass will be scheduled for Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. with a different choir and family taking care of the service part of the liturgy. Any families interested, please call the rectory. Way of Cross Devotion will be held on Fridays at 2:15 p.m.

Religious instructions will be given today at 10 a.m. for our children attending public school, kindergarten through 8th grade, and also for the Confirmation and Pre-Confirmation classes. The Confirmation class will also meet on Friday at 7 p.m. 11th and 12th graders will meet on Monday at 6:30 p.m.

St. Rose Catholic Youth Organization will sponsor a Mardi Gras Disco tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the St. Augustine Seminary Gym.

The Ladies of St. Peter Claver will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Feb. 14, at 4 p.m.

Blessed Ashes will be distributed during the 6:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Masses on Wednesday. Our Confirmation class will take the service part of the liturgy that night. Our Gospel choir will sing. During the Mass, the parents will present these young parishioners to the parish family to witness their decision to prepare in earnest for the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Lenten Fast Days (one full meal, no meat for those 21-59) are Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. Those who Confessions are heard half-hour before weekend Masses and upon request.

The earthworm is often known by several other names, including fishworm, angeworm or night crawler.

ROTARY SPEAKER—Jim McMurtry, Mississippi Delta native, resident of Long Beach, and educational officer at the National Space Technology Laboratories, will be the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's featured speaker Wednesday. As NSLT's educational officer, McMurtry presents programs to schools and civic groups as well as at special events throughout Mississippi and Louisiana. He also presents lectures at NSLT's Visitors Center on NASA's missions and those of NSLT's resident agencies. Rotary meets at noon Wednesdays at Shiroin Stockade in Waveland. Before coming to NSLT, McMurtry served for five years as director of the STARS Planetarium, a facility of the Jackson County School District. He has extensive experience lecturing on astronomy and related sciences to schools, universities and civic groups. He developed the first accredited high school internship program in planetarium science in Mississippi and the second in the nation. He also developed and produced an instructional planetarium presentation on the physics of stars which was selected for distribution to other planetariums by the International Planetarium Society. McMurtry is the editor of the Mississippi Science Teachers Association's journal and newsletter and is a member of the MSTA board of directors. He is also a member of the Southeastern Planetarium Association, the International Planetarium Society and the Astronomical Society of the Pacific. He and his wife, Donna, have four children.

Cat Sitters Are The Purrfect Solution!

Have you always wanted a cat, but were hesitant to acquire one because of a busy travel or work schedule? Or do you already have a furry friend, but don't know what to do with him during vacation time? If so, here's the purrfect solution—a cat sitter.

Everyone who owns a cat knows that they can be finicky. Many are real homebodies who prefer not to leave the house. Others—the curious ones—like to visit other people.

In any case, pet-sitting businesses are ideal for vacations who prefer to leave their cats in a home environment—and for busy cat-owning couples, singles and families who spend long hours away from home.

In fact, so popular are these reasonably priced services; that pet-sitting businesses are leaving their paw prints across the country.

According to Jeanne Tusler, founder of the national Pet Vacations, Inc., pet sitters are carefully screened and understand the special responsibilities and sensitivities involved with caring for cats. Pet Vacations employees are trained people who welcome visiting pets into their homes. On the other hand, sitters for Pet Visitors, Inc. (a service created by Mary Slaughter in Richmond, VA) make housecalls, so the cats can remain in their own homes.

Either way, pet sitting gives the cat owner more freedom and peace of mind. Says Jeanne Tusler, "Everyone benefits from this service. Owners feel safe about leaving their cats; pet-loving sitters enjoy the extra companionship; and cats frolic in a home environment!"

Cynthia Rose Cure became the bride of Jeffrey Joseph Rutherford in an 11 a.m. ceremony December 31 in the American Legion Club House in Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Cure of Clermont Harbor. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rutherford Jr. of Bay St. Louis.

Justice Court Judge John Chevis officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal satin fashioned along princess lines and featuring a Victorian neckline and long fitted lace sleeves. Her Juliet caplet of lace held a chapel length veil of illusion which formed a train edged in lace.

She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses and baby's breath with ribbon streamers.

Susie Cure of Clermont Harbor attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a princess style dress of cranberry satin and carried a nosegay of pink roses.

Floyd Holland of Bay St. Louis was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Club House, which was decorated with pink poinsettias, fern and spruce greenery.

For traveling to Pensacola, Fla., the bride wore a blue shirtwaist dress accented with a white orchid corsage.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Green of Leakeville; Miss. Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd of Brandon, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. O. Goff of Harahan, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Durapan of Metairie.
